Influences to work with:	Are there one or two Angels that keep showing up for you?
	What are the words that keep showing up for you?
	Are there certain colours that keep showing up for you?

By bringing more of the colour that you need into your life, either by wearing it, eating it, or using it in your home e.g. flowers, you will balance the chakras and become more aware of how colour and colour rays can help with wellbeing.

Angel words are vibrations that have their own angelic presence. This means you can call in the Angel of the word that you have chosen e.g. the Angel of Love. Keep the Angel of these words with you until you feel you no longer need them and then thank the Angel and release them. The Archangels that you feel drawn to will work with you to give you strength and direction in the area of need. Remember that you can always ask your Angels for help and remember to send love and thanks.... I hope you have enjoyed your weekly Angel Challenge.
