By bringing more of this colour into your life either by wearing it, eating it or using it in your home e.g. flowers, you will balance the chakras and become more aware of what you need.

Angel words are vibrations that have their own angelic presence, so you can call in the Angel of your word e.g. the Angel of Love. Keep the angel of these words with you until such time as you feel you no longer need them. Then thank the Angels and release them. The Angel you have chosen will work with you to give you strength and direction in the area of need. Remember that you must always ask your Angels for help and always send love and thanks.... I hope you enjoy your analysis.
