Archangel Chamuel

This Angel is associated with your 'Heart Chakra' and when you are drawn to Chamuel, it is a sign to go within, connect to your heart and look at how you can honour, love and cherish yourself at this time.

Calling on Chamuel will help you to care for yourself in little ways, whether it is just giving yourself time to do something you love or treating yourself to something special.

The words that this Archangel is associated with are love, caring, creativity, tenderness, pleasure and compassion.

Chamuel will lovingly guide you and bring love and light to help you to be creative and imaginative and to find special inspiration from the hidden depths of your heart.

Chamuel is the Angel of Beauty and encourages you to make beautiful things. Create a special space for yourself or produce something that will bring you pleasure. The Angels see beautiful things as signposts so that they can find you more easily and help you look inside and see your unique beauty deep within.

The colours associated with this Angel are shades of pinks going through to magenta. The colour pink is comforting, caring and offers unconditional love. This colour is about caring for yourself with gentleness and tenderness. Pink is loving, romantic and forgiving and is the colour of constant affection. Magenta is spiritually uplifting and creates achievement through love. Bring this colour into your life with roses, lilies, rose quartz crystals, scarves and jewellery. Remember to acknowledge these colours as you see them and breathe in their loving energies.

Many of you may have friends and family who are ill or separated and this is the Angel to call on. Archangel Chamuel is in charge of all the Angels of Love, who will bring compassion and love, when you need them to lift you from your sorrow, or if your heart has closed down through pain. You can send these Angel of love to anyone who may need it and also ask Chamuel to help you let go of any anger, hurt and resentment. In order for you to give love to others, you need to release negative emotions, to mend that bruised and battered heart and be open to receiving the love that you truly deserve. Ask Chamuel for a shower of love!

Chamuel will help you when you have lost or misplaced things. Ask Chamuel for their return or to keep them safe, until the tug of your inspiration leads you to find them.
